Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.

If you have decided to be a doctor or an engineer, it's easy to get information about how to become one. It's more difficult if you want to be an actor. Nobody can say, "First you do this, then you do that, and one day you're an actor". But I can tell you several things that will help.

Learning to be an actor usually starts at school. Drama lessons and clubs can teach students many things, including different ways of acting and how to write their own plays. Writing helps you understand a lot about acting. But even more important is learning to work in a group with other actors.

However, school lessons and clubs are only one part of learning about being an actor. Find small theatre groups near where you live - and don't worry about being the star! It doesn't matter if you only have one word to say in a play, it will still help you improve. You need to be on stage as much as possible, in a variety of different types of plays.

When you finish school, you should think about studying at university. Of course, it's possible to be an actor without going to university, but doing a theatre course is a good idea for some people. These courses may improve your acting, and also help you learn about a variety of subjects, such as business, history, music and dance.

TA DUNG LAKE

Located in Dak Nong Province, Ta Dung Lake is one of the most stunning natural attractions in Vietnam's Central Highlands. Often called the "Ha Long Bay on land," this freshwater lake is dotted with over 40 green islands of different shapes and sizes. The lake was formed when a hydroelectric dam was built, creating a peaceful and beautiful landscape that attracts many tourists.

Surrounded by Ta Dung National Park, the area is rich in biodiversity, with rare plant and animal species. Visitors can take boat tours to explore the lake and enjoy the fresh air and panoramic views. It is also an ideal destination for camping, photography, and eco-tourism.

The weather in the region is generally mild and pleasant, especially from November to April. In the rainy season, the lake becomes even more charming with higher water levels and greener islands. Thanks to its untouched beauty and tranquil atmosphere, Ta Dung is a hidden gem waiting to be discovered by nature lovers and adventure seekers.
